spite its modest beginnings, which were little indicative of its subsequent career of prosperity.

Its first pastor was the much beloved Rev. Joseph F. McGee, who strove hard under many difficulties to build up a creditable sized parish in what twenty years ago was far removed from being the well settled community which now clusters about the church, Fourteenth street and Park road.

Labors Rewarded.

Father McGee's labors were re-warded by the realization that Sa-cred Heart was well on the way toward phenomenal growth death stilled the heart and hand that had hoped for so much from the parish whose members had grown to look upon him with love and ven

Father McGee was succeeded by the present pastor, the Rev. P. C. Gavan, under whose able leadership the parish has rapidly attained the rank of one of the first in the city. In the six years of his pastorate the parish has made rapid strides until today in size, activity, achievement and promise it occupies an enviable place in the community
